WHAT THE CHURCH TEACHES

The month of June, the month of roses and sunshine, is set apart by the church for special devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. The Feast of the Sacred Heart falls in the middle of the month—June 14. A month more fitting for the tender devotion could not have been chosen. Set as it is in the center of the year, all the other months seem to diverge from it, as all devotion must center and diverge from the heart of God. Its roses are emblematic of the Saviour. The Sacred Heart devotion is the chief devotion of the day, and though not new, it is still of great antiquity. St. Gertrude tells of it in the twelfth century, and that it was to become one day universal we know from the revelations made to her, viz., "that it was a devotion reserved for these latter ages." This time came and to the sainted Margaret Mary Alacoque, a humble nun of the Visitation order, was made known the full wisdom of our Lord regarding his gift. "Behold this heart," said He, "which has loved man to such an excess that it has exhausted itself in consuming it- self."

the Sacred Heart, for our Lord says it is his delight to be with the children of men, and He calls continually from the tabernacle "Come to me all ye that labor and are heavy burdened; I will refresh you." "Here is the bread of life, and the waters of salvation, eat and drink that you may have life in you. Whoever, says I, shall eat my body and drink my blood I shall abide in him and he in me—and as I live by the Father, so you live by me."

The church tells us to receive frequently. She would have us, too, give ourselves to the honoring of our Lord's heart. For this has she indulged that devotion with so many privileges, and wishes that the faithful give their names to the confraternities established to further this devotion. Let this month of the Sacred Heart be marked by loving union with the Divine heart through many prayers and frequent holy communions.

"O Sacred Heart of Jesus, we implore Grace to love Thee ever more and more."

Grows Prospects For Success of Catholic Federation Convention.

Every Congregation and All the Societies Preparing For Parade.

Committee Meeting With Generous and Universal Encouragement.

MEETING NEXT THURSDAY NIGHT

Probably no national organization whose convention was decided to be held in Louisville, not even the Grand Army of the Republic or the Elks, has met with such generous and universal response from those interested as the coming meeting of the American Federation of Catholic Societies. Those interested are the forty-two Catholic parishes and the forty-eight Catholic benevolent and social organizations connected with the Jefferson County Federation of Catholic Societies, representing about 50,000 Catholic people—Irish, German, French, Italian and last, and most important of all, American-born men, women and children. This enthusiasm is due to the untiring energy, persistence and hard work of the heads of the various committees, made up of clergymen and laymen. Louisville had not heretofore been strong in federation work, and many did not understand the aims and objects of the federation. Now that the people understand the need and the request ...

been working day and night for the success of the convention, now feels that it will be a greater success than his most sanguine expectations led him to believe it would be when the national body was invited to meet in Louisville.

"With the people of forty-two congregations all united in making the convention a success," says Dr. Ganz, "how can it fail?" And so say all of the committeemen who are giving the work almost as much attention as their own private business affairs.

Although no general meeting was held during the week individual committee and congregational meetings were held nearly every night, and this kind of work will continue from now on up to the meeting of the convention August 18.

LORRETTO

Centennial Anniversary Exercises Held This Week.

Wednesday marked the centennial commencement at Loretto, when 500 of Kentucky's citizens of all denominations joined in the celebration of the hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Sisters of Loretto at the foot of the Cross, the first American religious order. On April 25, Foundation day, the Sisters themselves united to thank Providence for the fruition which had come to the work begun a century ago in the little log church of St. Charles; May 22 the clergy of the diocese assembled to honor the Sisters and commemorate the jubilee, and Wednesday Kentucky's Lieutenant Governor and a band of representative citizens paid their respects and thanked the society for the seeds of learning and friendship and patriotism which it had planted when much of the State was still a wilderness. The diplomas were conferred by the Rev. Edwin Drury, chaplain of Loretto Motherhouse, and the Very Rev. Michael Jaglo, President of St. Mary's ...

INTO LINE.

St. Patrick's Congregation For Catholic Federation Parade.

At a meeting of representative men and women of St. Patrick's parish Monday night the congregation entered with spirit into the movement for the entertainment of the Catholic Federation convention and the monster parade on August 18. Rev. James P. Cronin, V. G., who is Chairman of the Federation Advisory Board, stated the purpose of the meeting, after which a permanent organization was formed with the following officers: President, Edward J. O'Brien; Secretary, John Boland; Treasurer, James P. Barry. President O'Brien pointed to the good the convention would do and the splendid advertisement the Catholic Federation was giving Louisville. In this, as in everything else, he said, St. Patrick's congregation would do its full duty, and in everything pertaining to the convention would be found in first place. Calls were made for Jacob Hubbuck, Col. P. J. Breen, William M. Higgins and Dr. Peter S. Ganz, President of the Louisville Federation, who outlined the program and the work that must be accomplished. Martin Cusick, Thomas Keenan, Capt. Lovett, Margaret Sullivan and Tom Riley spoke for the men of the parish, and it was voted to have a float and march in the parade. The ladies pledged their services and will form their organization at a meeting to be held tomorrow afternoon. It was also voted to send five representatives to the Federation meeting next Thursday night. Monday night the men and women of the parish will meet again, when Chairman O'Brien will announce the various committees. This action on the part of Father Cronin and his congregation gives great encouragement all connected with both the national Federation.

PRASE REDMOND AND DILLON

The second reading and increased vote for the home rule bill was the cause of great celebration throughout Ireland. Everywhere there was rejoicing corresponding to that at Castleblany, reported as follows in the Dundalk Democrat:

The increased majority was very pleasing to the Nationalists of the town and district. The United Irish League brass band paraded the streets early in the evening and a torchlight procession was formed and was followed by the bands and a very large crowd. After parading the town the procession halted at the Commons, where a huge bonfire was blazing and where a public meeting was held, and which was addressed by Charles Lavery, solicitor; Dr. Clarke, J. P., and Alexander Fennell, J. P. Mr. Lavery asked for three rousing cheers for John Redmond. The request was heartily responded to, and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. Mr. Lavery said they had turned out to celebrate the victory that had been won on the previous night and to express their joy that the Irish nation is at last triumphant and destined to take a glorious part in the future history. The wonderful progress of the national movement and the proud position in which it stood is entirely due to the statesmanship and ability of John Redmond and the Irish party. The Irish Parliamentary party occupies a unique position in the history of the world. In fair weather and in hardship they have always shown their consistency, solidarity and ability. They ...

satisfy the heart of man, but that there is a home for everybody, one that is awaiting every man and his children, and that it is the duty of parents to prepare their children for their home. He said all the studies of the world can not make a good woman. They need religious training, he said. Father Wilkins told of what he said was a great mistake—that made by Catholics who fail to send their children to Catholic schools. He called attention to the fact that in the public schools no religion is taught. He declared it was impossible for parents to send children to the city schools for years and then expect them to acquire a knowledge of their religion in a few months prior to receiving their first holy communion.

Father Wilkins said the Catholic church frequently has been accused of being opposed to science. He said he not only denied, but resented that charge, and said the church not alone teaches the children the things of the world, but also religion. He asked if the new school would have been erected had the people of St. Philip Neri congregation been opposed to science. He gave the names of many leaders in drawing, medicine, music and painting who were Catholics. He said science was not enough—there must be religion. That the parents must co-operate with the teachers was maintained by Father Wilkins, and he praised the parent-teacher organizations of the public schools for bringing this about.

After the vespers the Rev. Father Cronin, accompanied by Father Wilkins and Felton and a long line of priests, proceeded to the ball, which was solemnly blessed and dedicated. When this had been done all returned to the church for the benediction, at which the Vicar General was the officiating priest.

The day was brought to a happy close with an elaborate banquet, for which over 300 covers were laid. While the courses were being served the school children rendered solos, choruses and recitations that evoked much enthusiasm. Rev. Father Schumann acted as toastmaster, and besides paying tribute to the great German statesman was most happy in his introductions. Vicar General Cronin said Father Ackermann and his people had reason to feel proud of their work, which will stand for centuries. The good that will come from Windhorst Hall, he said, will be more fully realized when those who are now children there become young men and women. Lieut. Gov. McDermott spoke eloquently and paid nice compliment to the young ladies who served the banquet, expressing surprise that there should be any old bachelors in that part of the city. Frank A. Geber was the last speaker, and his remarks, which were thoughtful and carefully prepared, were given close attention. Taken altogether this was a celebration that will long remain a pleasant memory to those present.

MONUMENT UNVEILED.

The people of the diocese of Natchez showed their loving appreciation of the work of their late de-ments for the big initiation ... held on Sunday, November 24, when a class of about a hundred will be added to the Young Men's Institute. That morning the members of Mackin Council and the candidates will be present at St. Cecilia's church, when the Rev. Father Brady will celebrate a special high mass. The initiatory ceremonies will take place in the afternoon, the State team from Owensboro coming here to confer the degrees. Upon the completion of the initiatory work the council and candidates will take cars for the Tyler Hotel, where an elaborate banquet will be served.

President Adams announced four applications and also that many more were coming, it being his ambition to bring the membership up to 700 before the next Grand Council. Visiting committee reported Dr. J. A. Casper III of rheumatism and Ray Bosler recovering from the effects of his recent accident. The social club invited the members and their friends to the Thanksgiving eve dance, when there will be a special illumination and decoration of the hall and club house.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Last Sunday was the forty-sixth anniversary of the birthday of John Fontana, the popular saloonist at Thirteenth and Green. This became known to a number of his friends, who determined upon a pleasant surprise. While quietly spending the evening with his mother, Mrs. Catherine Fontana, 431 East Walnut street, the party arrived, and included Messrs. Dennis Lincoln, Larry Laffan, M. J. Brannan, Logan Schwaner, Harry McDevitt, John Mann, Jake Fals, Quilo Fontana, John Mazzoni, Tony Fontana, James O'Neill, Joseph Fontana, Tom Miles and William Laswell. During the hour devoted to congratulations and social intercourse a number of vocal selections were rendered by a quartet composed of J. Mann, Harry McDevitt, Logan Schwaner and Larry Laffan. The aged mother and her daughters prepared a most palatable ravioli supper, to which ample justice was done. Col. M. J. Brennan presided at the piano with the ease of an artist, and was accompanied when the quartet sang "The Wearing of the Green," and a number of other vocal selections. The celebration was a happy one for all who had the good fortune to be present.

DEATH AT PARIS.

Patrick D. Shea, a former Confederate soldier and prominent citizen of Paris, died suddenly at his home from an attack of heart trouble. He had been ill but a few days. He served during the war under Gen. John H. Morgan, and for more than a year was confined as a prisoner in the Federal prison on Johnson Island. He was a native of Ireland, and came to America in 1852. Mr. Shea is survived by his wife and the following children: Ella and Margaret Shea, and Robert and James Shea, of Paris, and Charles Shea, of Cincinnati.

for Mayor, but the Judge ... the beans by registering as a Democrat, thinking at the time that the Republican party and its appendages in Louisville were hopeless.

While trying to create dissension in the Democratic ranks the Progressives have overlooked the merry little war going on between their party and what is left of the G. O. P., the leaders of both being at loggerheads in regard to their tickets in the August primary, which both have to nominate according to law. There is no chance at all for Fusion after the nominations are made, as there are candidates on both sides blaming each other for the wreck of the Republican party here, and neither will help the other to pull chestnuts out of the fire.

Grinstead wants the nomination for Mayor on the Progressive ticket, but the younger element want H. I. Fox, who made the race for Congress against Swager Sherley, and his friends insist that he be given the nomination as a reward for his splendid race behind Roosevelt. They contend that Grinstead has had his chance and should stand aside for the younger man. Anyway there will be fly flying in the Progressive ranks soon, as in addition to the Mayor's fight many of the old Republican officeholders under Grinstead want to try again for the city council, while the original Progressives can't see them for a minute. On the Republican ticket only one candidate for Mayor has been mentioned thus far, that of Robert L. Harris, ex-member of the Legislature.

Another bone of contention between these two parties is the colored brother's vote, the Republicans hoping to get them to vote under the log cabin, while the Progressives are hoping against hope to keep them in the Bull Moose ranks, but are a little doubtful about this. Many believe the elderly and illiterate negroes will stay with the G. O. P., while the elite among the colored folks will adopt the new party for a guide. From this it can be seen that the Republicans and Progressives will have enough trouble in their own ranks to smooth over, let alone worrying over the possible entries in the Democratic primary.

In a fair and open primary the Democrats will nominate a strong ticket and not, as Argus intimates, put up a ticket of favorites, and with a solid balance of 25,000 votes to start with, the Democrats have no fear of the Republican or Progressive opposition, or both, and feel confident that the race will not even be close, as the local Bull Moosers won't have Teddy Roosevelt's kite to bang onto next year.

GONE TO REST.

A splendid and exemplary character was called to his eternal rest on Friday morning of last week when John Conway, beloved son of Mrs. Julia Conway, 937 South Hancock street, succumbed to dread tuberculosis. Mr. Conway was a bookbinder and was employed by the Courier-Journal Job Printing Company. Although his illness was of short duration, only three weeks, he suffered with the greatest pa-

The funeral of John J. Rafferty, whose death followed a long illness of tuberculosis, took place Tuesday morning from St. Louis Bertrand church. Deceased was forty-eight years old and is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Melloy, of 1102 West Ormsby avenue, and Sister Thekla, of the Dominican order.

The death of Mrs. Johanna Callahan, 1135 Dumeau street, widow of the late Cornelius Callahan, removes from St. William's parish one of its most estimable and respected members, and from her immediate circle one greatly beloved. Mrs. Callahan is survived by one son, John Callahan, and a daughter, Miss Mary Callahan. Her funeral took place from St. William's church Thursday morning, solemn requiem mass being celebrated by Father George Connor, whose sermon on death was unusually eloquent.

John Mackey, deputy in County Clerk Ray's office and a popular resident of the West End, succumbed to a complication of diseases Tuesday morning at the home of his mother, Mrs. Emma Mackey, 1901 Griffiths avenue. The deceased was well known throughout the city and at one time was one of the best of young ball players. Besides his mother he leaves three sisters, Misses Ida, Mamie and Emma Mackey. The funeral was held Thursday morning from St. Patrick's church, and was attended by a large gathering of mourning friends and relatives.

Without warning death came to William Gogan, aged sixty, while sitting in a chair at his home, 140 North City street, Monday morning. Born in Ireland, he came to this country and for many years had been an industrious and respected resident of this city. Besides his wife he leaves six children, Mrs. Anna Adair, Misses Mamie and Viola Gogan, Albert, Henry and Thomas Gogan, the latter a member of the Louisville fire department. Sister Valentina, of Lowell, Mass., is a sister. Several other state and brothers live in Ireland. The funeral was held from St. Michael's church, of which Mr. Gogan had been a faithful member. Rev. Martin O'Connor officiating at the solemn mass of requiem.

God called to her eternal rest Sunday evening Mrs. Maria Burns, who had spent a long and useful life in this city and was held in high esteem by all who knew her. She was seventy-five years of age and for some time past had been in failing health. Mrs. Burns was a devout Catholic and a generous donor when appealed to for aid for those in sickness and distress. She is survived by three daughters and one son. They are Mrs. A. J. Tompkins, with whom she resided at 532 South Twenty-seventh street; Mrs. Nash, of Hopkinsville, and Mrs. William Martin, of Kansas, and Christopher Burns, of this city. The funeral was held Tuesday morning from St. Charles church, Rev. Father Rafferty being the celebrant of the solemn mass of requiem.

of the Bible in the churches of Europe.

It was in 1492, or about the time that the first expedition under Columbus sailed on his voyage of discovery, that the Moslem Saracens were driven out of Spain, but the Moslem Turks had invaded Eastern Europe and conquered Constantinople. This great city was founded by Constantine the Great, the first Christian Emperor of Rome, and made by him his capital and the capital of the world in the year 335. A great city, Constantinople had been a thousand years when the Turks came.

It was on May 29, 1453, that the Turks appeared before the gates of Constantinople. The city was taken by storm and that was the end of what had been the last capital and seat of Greek and Roman civilization and world dominion. The victorious Moslem army poured into the city like a torrent; the last depository of the rich spoils of Rome's world conquests became the plunder of Asiatic barbarians and fanatics. Among their inexpressibly rich spoils was Constantine's great church, St. Sophia. The beauteous temples of antiquity had been plundered of their carvings, their columns and pillars of the most costly marbles to enrich it, and the walls were encrusted with Sacred Scripture and in mosaic, the colors composed of myriad precious jewels. Its splendor was not equalled nor was its like to be found in the whole world.

The Sultan Mohammed II. determined to preserve it for a mosque, but the jeweled representations of the cross and other emblems of Christianity were more than the Moslem could endure. Instead of destroying them, he had them covered with a coat of whitewash which effaced but did not ruin them. There has long been a tradition to the effect that when the pictures wrought in jewels shall again make their appearance on the walls of this great church it will be a sign that Moslem power has been broken and that the Turks will be driven from Europe. It has been reported that the coating is wearing off and that some of the outlines of the objects so long concealed are beginning to appear. Of course another coating of whitewash would blot them out again, but without regard to tradition or superstitions, the situation brought about by the present war of the Balkans against Turkey indicates the end of Moslem dominion in Europe is near at hand. It is much to be doubted if Russia would allow Bulgaria or any other country but herself to own Constantinople, yet there is reason to believe that Russia's ownership of the city on the shortest route between Europe and Asia would be highly distasteful to Germany and Austria.

What the end will be can not be predicted with certainty, but every lover of justice must be anxious to see the last vestige of Mohammedanism expelled from territories where Christian peoples live.

MAYNORTH'S PRESIDENT.

Very Rev. Dr. Hogan, recently elected President of the famous of God's mercies the Governor says: "With love and veneration we should offer praise and thanks to God for the manifold blessings conferred upon us and unite in earnest supplication for their continuance. The year now drawing to a close has been conspicuous and notable. Our republic has been at peace with the whole world; our State has had rich harvests, productive industries, happy and contented people find abundance at home and overflowing markets; law and order have been preserved; the glorious heritage of self-government has not been impaired, but strengthened, and wherever we may look or whatever we may think, we have abundant cause for satisfaction and for gratitude to God. Therefore I, James B. McCreary, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, designate Thursday, the 28th day of November, 1912, as Thanksgiving day, and call upon all the people of Kentucky to give thanks and praise to God for the blessings He has conferred upon us, and to humbly beseech a continuance of his great mercies."

REPORT ON PRODUCTION.

Trinity Council, Y. M. C., held a well attended meeting Monday evening with President Phil J. Sandmann in the chair, and heard reports from their Entertainment Committee through Chairman V. K. Ecker. Their coming musical production, "Dolly Dollars," will be given some time in April, and first rehearsals were very encouraging. Edward Kelly, of the Educational Committee, urged the members to take advantage of the classes which are now being organized under competent instructors. Fuller details of this feature will be given all the members later through the Corresponding Secretary. The Literary Committee announced a stereoscopic lecture for next Monday evening under the direction of William Kirchdoerfer, with views of scenes of interest from all parts of the world, and the committee guarantees both a pleasing and instructive evening.

CAKE SALE.

The ladies of St. Cecilia's church will hold a cake sale at the school hall next Wednesday afternoon and evening, to which they invite their friends. In addition they will have a euchre and lotto party, for which many fine presents have been secured. The proceeds will be devoted to charitable purposes.

GREAT TOWER.

The great tower they are erecting in San Francisco to commemorate the opening of the Panama Canal is ornamented at its base with four gigantic statues. One of these represents St. Francis of Assisi and another represents Fra Juniper Serra, the Franciscan pioneer apostle of California. The tower measures 800 feet in height, is built on a hill, and its summit rises 1,100 feet above the sea. It serves the threefold purpose of a lighthouse, meteorological observatory and wireless telegraph station.

MISSION A SUCCESS.

The mission that opened last Sunday in Holy Trinity church at St. Matthews has proved very gratifying to the pastor, Rev. Father Neesen. Services have been held every morning and evening, when forceful sermons have been preached by the eloquent Benedict Hanley and Simon Herderich. The mission will continue next week, closing on Sunday, when the blessing will be given.

VISITS HIS ORDER.

Very Rev. Leo Gruehlich, O. M. C., formerly pastor of St. Anthony's but now Provincial of the Order of Minor Conventuals, has been spending the week in Louisville. Father Leo comes from St. Francis Convent at Syracuse, N. Y., for the purpose of visiting the Franciscan houses in this vicinity. While here the Provincial was the guest of Rev. Serafin Schlang at St. Anthony's.

Local citizens should be careful and not dare express a preference for the election of Board of Education members in November, as the Evening Post has already dictated who should be chosen.

WATSON UNDER ARREST.

Thomas E. Watson, who has been making bitter assaults on the Catholic church and clergy, was arrested at his home in Georgia on Monday on a Federal warrant, charging him with sending obscene literature through the mails. Tom will now get something besides notoriety, because he will not make good his violent attacks.

VERY TRUE.

Boys are not allowed to run locomotives on railroads, even with block signals and other safeguards to protect the lives of passengers. But any boy who wants to "borrow" a powerful motor car and race over the highways at railroad speed, regardless of safety or sobriety, can do so at pleasure. Evidence of the truth of the foregoing can be secured on West Broadway and other like thoroughfares almost every night.

CHURCH AND POLITICS.

The Catholic Citizen, of Milwaukee, states only what is true when it asserts that the Catholic church in the United States is not in politics. Its membership is divided between the two great political parties in about equal proportions, and when November rolls around Catholics will go to the polls and deposit their ballots for the candidate who, in their opinion, stands for all that is best and most enduring in the life of the nation. Neither Pope, Bishop nor priest will attempt to influence the election, and if they did the people are that it would have no effect.

It executes the freeman's will. As lightning does the will of God. The voice of the people has been heard and it will be obeyed. That Tuesday night the popular verdict had been rendered on the questions submitted to the great jury of which every voter is a part. Acquiescence in that verdict was assured before it was rendered. On March 4 the successful Presidential candidate will take the oath of office with the assurance that the millions of his political opponents who worked for his defeat will recognize his authority as Chief Magistrate as willingly as will the millions who clothed him with that authority.

Herein lies the strength of our system of government. Resting on the will of the people, as regarded by the ballot box, it is the strongest civil government now existing. When it first came into being the monarchists of Europe sneered at it and confidently predicted that it would be short lived. Sixteen million voters calmly determining who shall be intrusted for the next four years with the guidance of the greatest of republics is the all sufficient answer to those sneers and those prophecies of failure. A nation of ninety millions quietly registering its will, with the absolute conviction that that will will be obeyed, is in itself a proof that the nation "conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal" is politically sound.

The defeat the Liberals sustained Monday in the House of Commons will not affect the passage of the home rule bill for Ireland. Rather it will have the effect of increasing the attendance and keep the Liberals and Nationalists from being again caught napping. Very properly Premier Asquith refuses to accept the snap judgment of a committee of the House of Commons as reversing all previous decisions in favor of the home rule bill, which has in its favor a representative majority approximating 100.

The change of routes inaugurated Tuesday by the Louisville Railway Company gives general satisfaction and facilitates the service. Louisville has now a street car system and cars unsurpassed by any city in the country. While constantly extending it lines, the company never neglects those in operation.

was first discovered by a 'Mary-worshiping idolator' named Columbus. If I remember rightly it was a Catholic Queen who pawned her jewels to outfit his expedition.

And so on throughout. Mr. Windle refers largely to history to prove what the Catholic church has done for this country, and not being a Catholic, his argument is all the more forceful. Speaking of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, he says that opposition to their mission is an evidence of total depravity. To slander them is the sum of villainy. What the Sisters believe does not concern Mr. Windle. What they are doing for the lost, helpless and hopeless is what appeals to him and ought excite the admiration of the entire world.

Mr. Windle's reply has been printed in pamphlet form—thirty-two pages—and is a valuable document that should be circulated widely by Catholic societies everywhere. The Kentucky Irish American is giving a copy for a limited time with every subscription received.

Pope Pius X. was seventy-seven years old last Sunday. While there are conflicting reports regarding his health, the Christian world will pray that he be spared for many years to come.

MOURN HER DEATH.

Many friends and relatives are mourning the death of Miss Frances C. Dowling, daughter of Peter J. and Angela Dowling, which occurred Sunday evening at the family residence, 123 East Breckinridge street. Miss Dowling was a woman of amiable and loving disposition and during her life to the workmen rule bill in the House of Commons on Wednesday should only accelerate its passage.

The Bull Moose leaders will not contest the election. They know Congressman Sherley and Judge Smith were elected.

JOLLY TIME

For All Who Attend Entertainment For St. Leo's.

The people of St. Leo's congregation at Highland Park, of which parish Rev. John Fitzgerald is pastor, have completed arrangements for their large eucbre and lotto entertainment to be held next Wednesday afternoon and night at Trinity Council Hall, Baxter and Morton avenue. It is hoped to make this event the most successful ever undertaken by St. Leo's congregation. Among the articles that have been donated are a number worth extending a cordial invitation to all, and promise those who may attend a pleasant time. The presents will be many and will be both useful and ornamental.

CATHEDRAL.

There will be a meeting tomorrow afternoon of all the ladies of the Cathedral parish. It will be held in the rooms of the Catholic Woman's Club and will be called to order at 2 o'clock. It is hoped every lady who can will attend.

DIDN'T HAPPEN.

One disillusionment has resulted out of the campaign just closed: The hierarchy of the Roman Catholic church did not swing the Catholic vote to Mr. Taft—as advertised. As advertised of course by the journals of Bugabooville and the ministers of Goblinton, and accredited by many prosy, woody, moseback persons who live, not in the fear of God, but in the fear of the Pope. Of course the hierarchy didn't try to work this smooth game; but you can't convince the woody people about that. The fact that the game wasn't worked is sufficient for Lesson One. The election returns make that plain. Now if the Catholics were ordered by their prelates to vote for Taft, and didn't do it, in fact refused to do so and preferred to vote for the son of a Presbyterian minister, isn't that a great relief to barred minds? It proves that we are in no danger from the Pope—either the wires do not work or there are no wires.—Milwaukee Citizen.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

A council will soon be instituted at Ontario, Ore.

Big Initiations were conducted last Sunday at Crawfordsville and Vincennes, Ind.

The membership of the two Milwaukee councils to be merged this fall is now 1,200.

The idea of erecting an eight-story building in Portland, Ore., meets with general favor.

Arrangements for the Supreme convention to be held at Colorado Springs in August are fast assuming shape.

The anniversary of the council in Minneapolis was celebrated by the initiation of a class of fifty-one candidates.

Knights of Dayton, Ohio, have established a summer camp at West Carrollton, where they will spend their vacation.

The initiation at Indianapolis, when eighty candidates were received into the order, was pronounced the best ever witnessed there.

Wisconsin Knights appropriated $1,000 for St. Paul's church at Madison, and also $500 for the chaplain at the Boys' Industrial School at Waukegan.

The Knights of Toledo have purchased the handsome Newton residence, Jefferson and Twelfth, for their new club house. The purchase price was $20,000, and $100,000 will be spent in remodeling and making additions.

SURPRISE MARRIAGE.

Miss Mary Margaret Cronin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cronin, and William P. Schimpff, two of the most widely known and popular young people of Jeffersonville, sprung a surprise on their many friends Tuesday evening by going quietly to the rectory of St. Augustine's church, where they were united in marriage by Rev. Father John O'Connell. While it was known they were sweethearts none of their friends knew the wedding was so near. Bride and groom are now at the home of Mrs. Melors on West Market street, Jeffersonville, where they are receiving congratulations from friends and good wishes for a happy future.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

The children of St. Cecilia's school will hold their closing exercises in the school hall, Twenty-sixth and St. Cecilia streets, next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Tickets of admission are twenty-five cents.

MISAPPREHENSION.

The executive committee of the D. and J. Sadler Company, of New York, has led some to confound that house with that of William H. Sadler, 13 Barclay street, New York City. This is a mistake, as the sale in no way affects the business or publications of William H. Sadler, who continues the same as for years past.

PRESIDENT IS MAYOR.

Hon. C. H. Marr, recently elected President of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, is Mayor of Wyandotte, Mich., under the commission form of government.

SUMMER SCHOOL.

Formal opening of the twenty-first annual session of the Catholic Summer School of America at Cliff Haven, N. Y., will take place on Sunday, June 30. The lecture programme will begin the following day.

PROTESTANT GENEROSITY.

A magnificent bronze and brass fountain, surmounted by a statue of Our Lady of Grace, was recently presented to St. Benedict's College at Atchison, Kas., by Thomas M. Walker, a Protestant gentleman.

COMING CATHOLIC EVENTS.

June 24-27—Ninth annual meeting of Catholic Educational Association at Pittsburgh.

June 22-25—Thirtieth international convention of the Knights of St. John at Toronto.

July 21-28—Fifty-eighth annual convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and the Ladies' Auxiliary in Chicago.

August 6-8—Supreme convention of the Knights of Columbus at Colorado Springs, Colo.

August 18-21—Eleventh national convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies at Louisville.

September 22-25—Second meeting of the National Conference of Catholic Charities at Washington, D. C. The subjects for the second session will be taken from "The Relations of City Conditions and City Administrations to the Poor."

SMALL BORE MILES.

Nelson A. Miles is a pensioner of the United States Government. The money he receives is contributed by Catholic and Protestant alike. It was so contributed while he was still in the army. If he is true to his blighting convictions he will scorn to receive the Catholic portion of the fund that goes toward his support. Will he do it? Not in a thousand years. He is of too small bore.

TIMELY ADVICE.

At a recent mission held in the Cathedral at Chicago Father Pagan spoke, and here is a paragraph from his address: "I would not have you all vote one way. We do not want a Catholic political party in this great country. Vote for a Republican, if you believe him to be a good man. Vote for a Democrat if you believe him to be a good man. Above all, be good men yourselves."

HAYDEN-LENNOX

Combination Makes Colonnels a Factor in Pen-nant Race.

The rejuvenated Colonels, under the leadership of Manager Jack Hayden and Capt. Edgar Lennox, will begin a five-game series with the Milwaukee Brewers this afternoon, and incidentally endeavor to help the visitors clinch their hold on the cellar position which they captured since the Colonels woke up. As stated in these columns, the chief fault of the team was its lack of aggressiveness under Manager Tighe and that with an injection of fighting spirit no change in the lineup was necessary. The proof of this statement was borne out the very next day when under the new leader the Colonels went at their opponents from the tap of the gong and swept them off their feet, winning a double-header. Manager Hayden's first move was a direct proof of his own good judgment by appointing Lennox as field Captain, this selection meeting with the entire approval of the fans, who realize that in our sterling third sacker the Colonels have a man who will steadily down the youngsters on the infield and be a valuable aide to Manager Hayden in conducting the team. The Hayden-Lennox combination is a guarantee of first-class baseball, and many an exciting thrill is in store for the fans from now on till the end of the season. A double-header will be played with Milwaukee tomorrow.

VISITORS AT TRINITY.

At the regular meeting of Trinity Council, Y. M. I., last Monday evening William A. Link, of Mackin Council, and C. J. Linn and Joseph Smith, of Unity Council, New Albany, were present and delivered short talks concerning the Y. M. I.'s part in this national convention of the Catholic Federation which will be held here in August. It was decided that the Y. M. I. should be represented by a handsome float in the big parade and committees from the different councils will be appointed to arrange the final details.

APPOINTMENTS GRAINGER.

Gov. McCrory last Saturday appointed ex-Mayor Charles F. Grainger a member of the Kentucky Racing Commission, succeeding Col. Clay, of Bourbon county, who resigned last month. Mr. Grainger was a member of the first Racing Commission in this State, and his reappointment will meet with general approval. His term will not expire until 1914.

WASTE OF MONEY.

The daily press reports that 26,000 cork helmets, which were purchased for the purpose of being sold by Col. Bingham at the Government Depot in Jeffersonville. This is one of the ways in which the Government money is wasted. Supplies that can not be used should not be contracted for nor accepted.

CATHEDRAL OF CHRISTENDOM.

The great basilica of St. Peter's in Rome, which is the Cathedral of Christendom, was one hundred years in building, and cost not less than $50,000,000—a sum equal in our day to perhaps $150,000,000.

HONOR HOLY NAME.

From January 1, 1912, to April 20, more than one hundred and fifty Holy Name Societies have been established in the United States east of the Rocky Mountains.

LATEST IN STYLES.

Another fashion that will not down is the ruche and the scarf. The small hat still reigns supreme and is being used for even the most dressy occasions.

The white serge coat and skirt suits are even more than usually good looking this year.

Taffeta frocks with tunics of musline, all self-toned, are much worn for afternoon affairs.

The white stocking has arrived in Paris, and is evidently going to be "the thing" for this season.

Tulle ruffles in a vast range of colors are being worn, especially for afternoon with light tulle.

Newest shaped turbans are called the Girondist, and are shaped like a man's old-fashioned silk hat.

Linen parasols show little that is new except occasional oddities of shape and novel flowered designs.

The ever popular leghorn hat, lined with a darker shade, is prominent on the list of correct headgear.

For small kimono and dressing sacques batiste, lawn, dimity, trimmed with "val" lace, are cool and pretty.

Challis is a practical material for an early morning negligee, for it is a trifle warmer than most other suitable materials and washes as well.

The lace tunic is just as much in evidence as it was last season, the principal difference being that this year's offering is shorter and always sleeveless.

PROUD OF PRESS.

Lecturing on the "Ethics of the Press" at Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass., the Rev. F. J. McNiff, S. J., thus stated the purpose of the Catholic press: "Side by side with other newspapers of various kinds and purposes there has grown up a Catholic press of which we may be justly proud. Its worth is freely acknowledged by many of our brethren who are not of our faith; for they, as well as ourselves, recognize that the efforts of the Catholic press are not for the widening of a gap between us and our fellows, but rather for the drawing of us together in a united and moral and religious and high standards of life."

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Bring your friends and neighbors to Phoenix Hill and make this year's reunion surpasses all others.

A new division has been established on Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, with a roster of sixty members.

President Cusick's rule of calling his meeting promptly and adjourning early meets with hearty approval.

Divisions have all distributed their tickets for June 24, and members should dispose of them before that date.

The State convention will bring a goodly number of visitors to Louisville. Plans for their entertainment are now being discussed.

The Irish history scholarships provided by Milwaukee Hibernians are worth $400 each. In addition ten medals are given as prizes.

Medals have been secured by the Hibernians of Manchester, N. H., for distribution to the local schools that are teaching Irish history.

Division 3 meets Monday night, when President Hourigan will name committees for the Phoenix Hill celebration. A big meeting is looked for.

Fifty members from Milwaukee attended the initiation last Sunday at Janesville. Delegations from Madison, Racine and Kenosha were present.

Members of Division 1 are urged to attend the meeting Tuesday night. President Cusick and the officers want to make a number of appointments.

Mrs. Mary Daley, National Treasurer, has organized two splendid auxiliaries in British Columbia, one at Victoria and another at Vancouver.
